四、閱讀測驗題 (9 題 每題 2 分 共 18 分)

- (第一篇)
- It was something she had dreamed of since she was five. Finally, after years of training and intensive workouts, Deborah Duffey was going to compete in her first high school basketball game. The goals of becoming an outstanding player and playing college ball were never far from Deborah's mind.
- The game was against Mills High School. With 1:42 minutes left in the game, Deborah's team led by one point. A player of Mills had possession of the ball, and Deborah ran to guard against her. As Deborah shuffled sideways to block the player, her knee went out and she collapsed on the court in burning pain. Just like that, Deborah's season was over.

After suffering the bad injury, Deborah found that, for the first time in her life, she was in a situation beyond her control. Game after game, she could do nothing but sit on the sidelines watching others play the game that she loved so much.

Injuries limited Deborah's time on the court as she hurt her knees three more times in the next five years. She had to spend countless hours in a physical therapy clinic to receive treatment. Her frequent visits there gave her a passion and respect for the profession. And Deborah began to see a new light in her life.

Currently a senior in college, Deborah focuses on pursuing a degree in physical therapy. After she graduates, Deborah plans to use her knowledge to educate people how to best take care of their bodies and cope with the feelings of hopelessness that she remembers so well.

It's never an easy thing to find the perfect job, but it helps to be well-prepared. Knowing how to prepare for a job interview is actually the most important thing for a job hunter. Here are five tips:

- (A) Do some research on the company you are interviewing with. Make it clear that you know what their main products are and some other things about their company.
(B) Dress for success! Make sure you dress properly. A good personal appearance tells the interviewers how much you want the job.
(C) Rehearse! As the old saying goes, "Practice makes perfect." Ask friends or family to help you when you rehearse for the interview. Practice more in front of a mirror.
(D) Be on time! Check where the company you are going to is on the map. Getting there in time will show you are really prepared for the interview.
(E) Be well-mannered. Well-mannered people always make a good impression. Employers will be more likely to give a chance to people who know how to behave well.

If you follow these tips and prepare well for your interview, you do have a better chance of getting the job. Good luck!
