Dear Diary,

Last night, I went on a night tour at the National Museum of Marine Biology and Aquarium. The tour only cost me NT$2,080 because I had bought a discounted ticket online a few months ago.

Our tour guide, Jason, knew everything about marine animals. He __ (24) __ teach biology at a __ (25) __, but now he is __ (26) __. The guided tour __ (27) __ one and a half hours, and we spent about thirty minutes looking at each display. At the beginning of the tour, I enjoyed watching colorful fish swim through rocks and water plants in the Underwater Tunnel. Then, we got to the Touch Pool. I thought that we wouldn't be able to touch anything in the museum, but Jason said we could gently touch the sea animals there. I had always wondered what sea animals felt like, so I was quite excited. The crabs, starfish, and sea cucumbers felt strange but amazing. My favorite part of the tour was visiting the Penguin Island. It was surprising to see how well penguins could swim underwater. I could never get tired of watching them. After dinner, I even made my own souvenir in the sand painting class. I could then bring this __ (28) __ __ (29) __ back home!

At night, I slept on the floor next to the Whale Pool. I watched the whale dance in the water for a few minutes before I __ (30) __. This __ (31) __ made me realize how beautiful marine life is and that it is important to __ (32) __ our oceans for future __ (33) __.

六、閱讀測驗(共 9 分, 每題 3 分)

Today, customers are able to order everything from hamburgers to sushi through their phones, watches, televisions, virtual assistants, and even their Twitter accounts. Let's take a look at some other modern trends in food delivery. While companies are still testing drones for food delivery, another high-tech tool is already in use: robots! The pizza delivery robots, called ‘Starships,’ drive 4 miles per hour and use cameras and GPS to find their way.

With some companies looking toward the future, other food delivery apps are helping to solve present-day problems. One such app, ‘Food For All,’ is hoping to reduce food waste by selling restaurant leftovers at lower prices. Other apps are helping pet owners to easily order food for their dogs and cats. As people demand more convenience and the food delivery industry continues to grow, there's no telling what kind of creative ideas app developers will think of next!
